

Handout 4

Why is social-emotional development important?

Confident and emotionally secure children:

- do better at school and in future achievements
- make friends more easily
- are more flexible
- have more positive peer relationships
- have higher self-esteem
- form close relationships
- are more motivated and enthusiastic.