

Handout 19

Play

Play, and communication through play, is the best way to build a relationship with your child. It can help your child feel confident and secure, and is the best way to promote learning.

